

Brighton and Hove Speak Out Transitions Advocacy Project Worker Job Advert

About the job:

	We have an exciting new job at Speak Out. The job is for someone who has: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • experience of what it is like to have a learning disability. • a good understanding of the issues that young people with a learning disability face on their journey to becoming an adult.
	It is part of Speak Out's Transitions Project funded by the Henry Smith Charity.
	The job is for 4 hours a week
	We will pay you £2,529 per year. This is about £211 per month
	You will get 24 hours paid holiday each year plus bank holidays (this is equal to 6 weeks a year if you were working full time)

What is Speak Out's Transitions Project?

The Transitions Project is an advocacy project for young people with learning disabilities aged 17 – 26+ years old.

The project supports young people with learning disabilities on their journey towards becoming more independent.

What will you do in the job?

You will work alongside the Transition project Coordinator Sarah Charsley.

The main aim of your work will be to support young people with learning disabilities to understand and speak up about the issues that affect their life.

You will do this helping to run different activities including:

- Helping to plan and run workshops for young people with learning disabilities about issues that affect them, for example on relationships, housing or independence skills.
- Finding out about local events and

	activities that young people can get involved in. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Helping to make short films about the experiences of young people with learning disabilities. Telling young people, the public and professionals about the Transitions project. This might be by using social media (e.g. Facebook), or making easy read information or videos.
---	---

How to apply for the job?

 	The application form and job description has been sent out with this advert. You can also download them from our website at https://www.bhspeakout.org.uk/support-us/work-with-us/ You can phone us on 01273 421921 if you need to ask questions about the job or how to apply.
	You will need to send us your application by Monday 10 June, 10am.

If you are chosen to come for an interview, we will write to you with some more information.

Speak Out is an equal opportunities employer.

We would welcome applications for this job from young people with a learning disability.